Did you know that bullying can continue as we age? Elliot Paus Jensen will talk about the challenges involved in living in close proximity and sharing living spaces, which can lead to bullying. The focus is bullying, what it is, the forms it can take, and its effects on the person bullied, the person who bullies, the bystanders and the whole community. Doing nothing about bullying allows it to continue and likely increase. The effects can result in people feeling unsafe and isolate themselves. Let's learn more about this together and find ways we can decrease the frequency of bullying within the community.
