My name is Carlos Martinez, and I've experienced the challenges of addiction and gang life firsthand. I found hope and support through a Men's Group. It became my safe haven. God put it in my heart to create a safe space where men can come together to uplift one another and find hope and strength to overcome their own struggles. A place where we learn how to hold each other accountable. This is something more than just a group, this is a brotherhood we can build together.
