All across Lake County, health and human service providers are joining with United Way of Lake County to deliver 211.

211 is an easy-to-remember, 24-hour helpline designed to reduce time and frustration because it is the central access point to the health and human services in our community.

Without 211, people are often faced with finding services on their own. The result is two-fold:

1. Residents in need spend a lot of time calling around trying to find answers, and
2. Many service providers get misdirected calls that force them to redirect already-distressed callers, preventing the providers from focusing on their missions.

211 aims to change all that. Together we:

- Give everyone in Lake County easy, direct access to immediately-useful information and resources, regardless of the time of day, language they speak, or where they live.
- Reduce the burden on service providers by helping people find the right solution in one call. 211 creates efficiencies like more accurate referrals to service providers. Less time spent redirecting calls to other agencies. More time available for your clients and their needs. Lower cost of services. Higher impact of program funding.
- Make life better for our friends and neighbors by sharing a simple, high-touch approach to getting help exactly when it’s needed.

211 is a service United Way developed years ago to help people find resources in times of great need. It has emerged nationally as an important innovation in providing Information and Referral (I&R) services.

United Way of Lake County determined it was time to bring 211 to our own community so we’ve been working with teams of community partners to do just that. Together we’ve developed a mission and vision for what 211 can be here at home.

Mission: UWLC’s 211 helps individuals, families, and providers navigate and connect with local health and human services, 24 hours a day, every day of the year.

Vision: UWLC’s 211 serves as a vital, trusted community resource, making it easier for individuals, families and providers in Lake County, Illinois to connect with a comprehensive array of health and human services that improves lives.

Fully implemented 211 systems integrate information about a wide variety of social services through a single information network—providing crucial data for agencies like yours to use in strategic planning.

For example, 211 provides real-time, searchable and visualized data on community-specific needs not only here in Lake County, but across the country. Through 211 Counts, you can find an up-to-date snapshot of needs by zip code, as well as legislative district or school district. It’s easy to identify trends, make comparisons, and share information.
